Over the past few years, London Art Week (LAW) has developed into a major showcase of the best that London’s art world has to offer in the area of pre-contemporary art. Led by a flagship Summer event, to which has recently been added a second week of events and exhibitions in the Winter, LAW aims to offer the very best paintings, drawings, sculpture and objects available on the market, dating from Antiquity to the Twenty-First Century. Exhibitions are hosted at a wide range of participating dealers, galleries and auction houses clustered in the historic Mayfair and St James’s; two areas which have long represented the centre of the fine arts trade in London.

Every year, LAW attracts numerous private collectors from around the world, as well as curators, directors and trustees from dozens of national and international museums. The event continues to grow, attracting ever-more affluent and cultured visitors from the UK, Europe and America. Indeed, for many, London Art Week has become an unmissable date on their calendars.

We at London Art Week would welcome your support of this biannual event, which over several years has become such a significant part of the art market season in London.

ABOUT LONDON ART WEEK

London Art Week began in 2014, with the merger of the well-established Master Paintings, Drawings and Sculpture weeks.

Since then, it has grown into the most successful gallery-based art event, with over fifty participating galleries and three auction houses in the West End.

These galleries have greatly benefited from their mutual association and have made a significant impression on the worldwide art market. The week has become a wonderful opportunity for visitors to explore and discover world-class art in the heart of London.

Our Art Suppliers Directory is a London Art Week guide of trusted and approved, framers, restorers, photographers and other invaluable services for the art market and their clients. This indispensable guide provides a unique opportunity to expand your reach and visibility to the London Art Week audience.

- All members will be listed in both the online directory and printed catalogue (of which 8,000 copies are printed and distributed internationally)
- The online directory will include your logo, company bio, images, website and all contact details. In the printed catalogue you will have a listing with your company name and website details
- Annual Subscription - you will be listed for one calendar year. London Art Week is a bi-annual event, Summer and Winter, and our platform is year-round
- There are available opportunities to increase your presence by upgrading your membership. Each member will be listed alphabetically and according to membership
- If members wish to increase their presence further, there is also the possibility of advertising in our printed catalogue. For more information please contact: pauline@londonartweek.co.uk
London Art Week connects advertisers with a focused and relevant audience within the art world. Advertising in our Summer 2020 Catalogue is the perfect opportunity to engage with private art collectors, major art institutions and museum curators; all accumulated through an extensive database of high net worth clients.
“In the history of the London art market no other event has unified so many top dealers and auction houses to give clients the chance to see the best paintings and sculptures in one place and at one time.”

COMPANY BIOGRAPHY
For 40 years Colin Bowles has been a leading provider of mounting, installation, and conservation to the fine art and cultural heritage trade. Their highly skilled team believe there is no one technical solution for the preservation and presentation of art and antiquities. They treat every job as bespoke and apply the highest degree of care and ingenuity. Colin Bowles provides world-class services to international museums, galleries, auction houses and private collections, and their signature bronze mounts can be seen throughout London Art Week, and other art and antiquities fairs including Frieze, Frieze Masters, LAPADA, BADA and Masterpiece. For 12 years they have proudly held the Royal Warrant for Mount Makers of Objects and Works of Art. Ideally situated in South West London, their well-equipped workshop is on the border of London’s West End - perhaps the greatest Art centre in the world.
